The estate includes a 14th century palace. Although it was a defensive fortress in it's day, through the centuries it has been renovated many times.

The most recent renovation was 5 years ago, where modern amenities were integrated while making sure it kept its character and authenticity.

ON THE OUTSIDE

This completely secluded and exclusive estate is closely linked to the historic city of Segovia and lies at the edge of the flat Castilian plains, next to the Guadarrama mountain range. IT has been looked after the same family since the 17th century.

Over the years different generations have made sure the essence, the spirit and the original features of the house have remained unchanged.
