RECOMMENDED VISITS

It is possible to get to know some towns and cities with charm and history that are a few kilometers away from La Nava.

Known as the most charming village of Castilla La Mancha, the town of Almagro must be visited. With a great architectural and cultural heritage, in the surroundings of its Plaza Mayor are the most emblematic buildings: the Town Hall, the Corral de Comedias and the National Museum of Theater. Every July the city turns its streets into pure theater, with its Classic Theater Festival being considered the best in the world in its category, an event that includes the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries both from the East and the West for 25 days.

Not far from La Nava there is a wonderful place where water takes the lead: the National Park of Tablas de Daimiel. It is the last representative of an ecosystem known as "fluvial tables" and one of the few remaining wetlands in Europe. One of the most internationally emblematic activities in this park is bird watching, since thousands of birds use the tables as a wintering, mating and nesting area. The town of Úbeda has been a World Heritage Site since 2003. One of the main attractions of this Andalusian city is its architecture, which is considered as the peak illustration of the Andalusian renaissance, where a visitor should not miss its palaces and convents.

One of the "Most Beautiful Villages in Spain" is another excursion near the farm, and this is at Villanueva de los Infantes, a well-maintained Baroque and Renaissance complex with religious buildings, palaces and noble houses. This city of the Golden Age is often qualified with three letters Q: here is where Cervantes wanted to set up "El Quijote"; Quevedo toured its streets and is buried here; and also has been awarded the Q seal of tourist quality.

Nature lovers can take a walk on a fascinating trail that will take them to an impressive waterfall. It is a natural place of abrupt relief where the Guarrizas river forms a succession of waterfalls, with the most beautiful and spectacular known as La Cimbarra.
